Kanton Basel-Stadt	October 31, 2026

The city administration of the canton of Basel-Stadt was looking for ways to optimize its project management processes and increase efficiency. By introducing Artificial Intelligence (AI) into project work, employees were to be enabled to automate administrative tasks, improve the quality of analyses and decisions, and thus gain more time for strategic work. The following describes how asioso supported the IT BS in the canton of Basel-Stadt in implementing AI tools and training employees to achieve these goals.
